PRETRIAL DIVERSION PROGRAM

I. Legal Authority

Pursuant to 18 U.S.C. §3154(10), the probation office shall to the extent provided for in an agreement between the Chief Probation Officer and the U.S. Attorney, collect, verify and prepare reports for the U.S. Attorney's Office pertaining to the pretrial diversion of any person who is or may be charged with an offense and perform such other duties as may be required under any such agreement.

II. Definition

Pretrial diversion is an alternative to prosecution which seeks to divert certain candidates from traditional criminal justice processing into a program of community supervision administered by the probation office. The Diversion Program may begin prior or subsequent to the formal filing of charges. In either case, prosecution is suspended. If charges have been filed, they are dismissed following successful completion of the program. A candidate's participation in the Diversion Program shall be voluntary.

III. Objectives

The objectives of the Pretrial Diversion Program are to prevent future criminal activity by certain candidates against whom prosecutable cases exist; to save prosecutive and judicial resources; and to provide, where appropriate, a vehicle for restitution to communities and victims of crime.

IV. Eligibility Criteria

An individual may be diverted when a prosecutable case exists and if the individual meets established criteria -- see Exhibit A.

V. Legal Representation

Candidates for pretrial diversion shall be represented by legal counsel. If an indigent individual is being considered for diversion prior to the filing of formal charges and is without counsel, the U.S. Attorney's Office shall refer the individual to the Federal Public Defender's Office or schedule an appearance before a U.S. Magistrate Judge for consideration of eligibility for the appointment of counsel.

VI. Referrals

The U.S. Attorney's Office shall be responsible for selecting persons to be considered for the Pretrial Diversion Program. If the Probation Office identifies a potential candidate, the Chief Probation Officer may request the U.S. Attorney to consider the person for the Pretrial Diversion Program.

When the U.S. Attorney's Office identifies a case for referral to the Pretrial Diversion Program, the Assistant U.S. Attorney shall notify the candidate and defense counsel by letter (Exhibit B) and shall provide them with the Application for Pretrial Diversion Program (Exhibit C). Defense counsel shall discuss the Program with the candidate and review the waiver of rights to a speedy trial and the presentment to a grand jury within the statute of limitations. If the candidate wishes to participate, defense counsel shall notify the U.S. Attorney's Office and return the completed application. The Assistant U.S. Attorney shall then forward to the Chief Probation Officer a referral letter with a copy to the supervising judicial officer (Exhibit D), an investigative report and a copy of the completed application. Within three days, the Chief Probation Officer or his designee shall acknowledge the referral and identify the probation officer assigned to conduct the investigation (Exhibit E). No pretrial diversion investigation shall be initiated until a formal request is received from the U.S. Attorney's Office.

VII. Pretrial Diversion Report

The probation office shall conduct an investigation to assess the candidate's suitability for participation in the Pretrial Diversion Program and shall prepare a written report within 30 days after receipt of the U.S. Attorney's referral letter. The report shall include, but shall not be limited to, the following: Details of Offense, Personal History, Prior Criminal Record, Assessment and Recommendation. Upon completion of the report, the probation officer shall provide a brief written summary of the case to a judge on the Probation Committee acting on behalf of the Court. If the Court does not concur with the recommendation of the probation officer, the judge shall communicate with the probation officer within five days of receipt of the written summary. If the Court interposes no objection, the probation officer shall provide the report and recommendation to the U.S. Attorney's Office and defense counsel. Defense counsel shall return the report to the probation office when the candidate is accepted or rejected for the Pretrial Diversion Program. A person's admission to the Pretrial Diversion Program shall be subject to the concurrence of the U.S. Attorney and the Chief Probation Officer.

VIII. Pretrial Diversion Agreement

When a person is approved for admission to the Pretrial Diversion Program, the Assistant U.S. Attorney shall prepare a Pretrial Diversion Agreement within seven days of receiving the report. The agreement shall contain the terms and conditions of the Pretrial Diversion Program. The length of supervision is not to exceed 18 months. Persons admitted to the Pretrial Diversion Program shall abide by the standard conditions adopted by the Court and any special conditions included in the Pretrial Diversion Agreement (Exhibit F).

The Assistant U.S. Attorney shall schedule a conference with the candidate, defense counsel and the probation officer. At the conference, the terms and conditions of the Pretrial Diversion Program shall be reviewed and the Agreement executed by the parties. Supervision commences upon execution of the Agreement.

If charges have been filed, the U.S. Attorney's Office shall, after execution of the Agreement, submit to the supervising judicial officer an order dismissing the charges without prejudice (Exhibit G).

If the candidate is not admitted to the Pretrial Diversion Program, the Assistant U.S. Attorney shall so advise the probation office and defense counsel. A candidate not admitted to the Pretrial Diversion Program is subject to prosecution.

IX. Supervision

The Probation Office shall supervise the person under the Pretrial Diversion Program in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Agreement.

A) Confidentiality

The Pretrial Diversion Agreement shall not be a public document and the fact that a person is on pretrial diversion is confidential and shall not be disclosed.

B) Third Party Risk

A determination of risk shall be made in each case. Factors to consider in making this evaluation are the facts of the case, the person's conduct and prior criminal record. Consideration shall be given to the person's current employment and other circumstances which might present the person with an opportunity or temptation to engage in criminal or anti-social behavior related to the person's criminal background.

At the onset of supervision and, thereafter, if the circumstances of the divertee change, the probation officer shall review the case to determine whether a reasonably foreseeable risk to a third party exists. Reasonably foreseeable risk means that the circumstances of the relationship between the divertee and the third party (e.g., employer and employee) suggest that the person may engage in a criminal or anti-social manner similar or related to past conduct. Matters related to third party risk shall be reported to the U.S. Attorney's Office. Resolution of such issues shall be subject to the concurrence of the U.S. Attorney and Chief Probation Officer. Unresolved issues shall be referred to a judge on the Probation Committee.

C) Flash Notices

When a candidate is accepted into the Pretrial Diversion Program, the probation office shall send a "Flash Notice" (FBI Form 1-12--Exhibit H) to the Director of the FBI in Washington, DC. This will facilitate notification of any new arrest involving the divertee. When a divertee has successfully completed the Pretrial Diversion Program, the probation office shall send a "Final Disposition Report" (Form R-84--Exhibit I) indicating the final disposition and date to the Director of the FBI in Washington, DC. For the period of the diversion and for three years after the successful completion of the program, the Identification Division of the FBI shall retain the pretrial diversion information and shall disseminate it to all authorized requesters. After the three year period, the fingerprint cards shall be expunged from the Identification Division's file and shall be destroyed.

Assistant U.S. Attorney shall promptly prepare an order for the supervising judicial officer dismissing the charges with prejudice (Exhibit K) and shall forward a copy of the Order of Dismissal to the diverttee, defense counsel and the probation office. If no formal charges are filed, the Assistant U.S. Attorney shall communicate to the diverttee, defense counsel and the probation office that no charges shall be filed. The probation office shall file an FBI Disposition Form R-84, so that the record indicates successful completion.

ELIGIBILITY CRITERIA

The U.S. Attorney may divert any individual against whom a prosecutable case exists and who is not:

1. Accused of an offense which, under existing Department guidelines, should be diverted to the state for prosecution;
2. A person with two or more prior felony convictions;
3. An addict;
4. A public official or former public official accused of an offense arising out of an alleged violation of a public trust; or
5. Accused of an offense related to national security of foreign affairs.

Cases which meet the above criteria but are violations of the statutes listed below require prior approval of the Criminal Division of the U.S. Department of Justice.

Re: In the matter of: _____

Complaint No. _____

Dear

The United States Attorney for the Middle District of Pennsylvania has information that you have committed an offense against the United States in violation of Title __, United States Code, Section(s) _____. Description: _____

After reviewing your case, we have made a preliminary determination that you may be an appropriate person to participate in the Pretrial Diversion Program. Pretrial diversion means that this office will not presently seek a conviction against you. Instead, if you qualify and are accepted, you will be placed in a pretrial diversion program under certain specified conditions described in a written agreement between you and the government for a term not to exceed eighteen months. If you satisfactorily fulfill the conditions and terms of the program, you shall not be prosecuted, or, if you have already been charged, the charges against you shall be dismissed. If you violate the conditions of the written agreement, you may be removed from the pretrial diversion program, in which case this office will resume prosecution.

Decision to seek acceptance into this program is one that must ultimately be made by you alone. Nevertheless, it is important that you immediately discuss this matter fully and completely with your attorney inasmuch as your participation in this program will constitute a waiver of certain rights afforded to you by the Constitution. Specifically, you must waive your right to a speedy trial and your right to have an indictment presented to a grand jury within the applicable statute of limitations. If you believe you are unable to afford an attorney, you may apply to the Federal Public Defender's Office to have counsel appointed to represent you.

If you desire to be further considered for the pretrial diversion program, please let us know at your earliest convenience.

Any information furnished in connection with your application for pretrial diversion will be confidential and will not be admissible on the issue of guilt in subsequent criminal proceedings.

Exhibit B

In order to ensure that appropriate procedures can be initiated as soon as possible, please respond promptly.

Very truly yours,

United States Attorney
